The Asian Rural Institute (ARI) is an international training center in Japan. Participants from developing countries are invited to study at ARI for nine months in sustainable, organic agriculture techniques, leadership and community development.

Join us!

At the 2009 Annual General Meeting and Reunion we come together with old and new friends to celebrate and share ARI's mission to build an environmentally healthy, just, and peaceful world. Join us in learning more about ways to support a worldwide philosophy of "by sharing life we live."
